

RACE, NOT GRACE!

(A discussion on Israel Identity from a Scriptural and historical background)

By Lt Col. Jack Mohr, AUS RET.

"In the place where it is said unto them, 'Ye are not my people, 'there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.'" - Hos. 1:10

What a strange title and one which is bound to raise the hackles on the necks of fundamentalists before they read the first word.

Most preachers refuse to accept the truth, that God's promises, both in the Old and New Testament were made to an earthly people. They were not made for some distant place which they call "heaven." God's people were not designed to spend eternity, sitting on a fluffy white cloud, strumming on a guitar.

When Almighty God YAHWEH, spoke to Jacob in Genesis 35:11, He said: ". . . I am God Almighty: be fruitful and multiply; a NATION AND A COMPANY OF NATIONS shall come out of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins." God was not speaking here about a people we today call JEWS; or a spiritual entity called the church. He was referring to the physical descendants of Jacob, whose name was changed to ISRAEL, meaning "prince ruling with God."

This was a promise crucial to world history and was a promise which was not given to a people called JEWS. The Jewish people at the time of Christ and now, did not and do not fulfill these promises. The political leaders of the world cannot point to any such fulfillment. Neither do they fit the church.

A close look made at God's promises to Abraham, the grandfather of Jacob, will reveal they were twofold. The Bible makes a sharp distinction between these two phases.

There was the spiritual promise of "one seed," which was fulfilled in Jesus Christ, and by which salvation was offered to all men, not just those of Israel blood. This is referred to as "the scepter."

But there is another earthly promise of equal importance. This is the one most of our Bible scholars reject. It has to do with material and national promises which related to many nations - the Israel nations, which we believe make up the white nations of Christendom.

These were promises of national wealth, prosperity, power and the possession of what we call the Holy Land, if they obeyed God. The Bible calls these "the birthright."

But before we can intelligently discuss these two phases, we must have an understanding of the terms used. A "birthright" is something which belongs to one by right of birth. It has to do with "race," not "grace." This possession is ordinarily handed down from father to son, with the elder son being the one to receive this precious possession. It has nothing whatsoever to do with "grace," which is unmerited favor of God, offered to all mankind as a "free gift" of God, through Jesus Christ.

The "scepter," on the other hand, is the "badge of command." It denotes sovereignty and culminates in the kingly line of David - in David's Greater Son, the Lord Jesus Christ.

Both of these precious promises were made to Abraham, unconditionally. They were repeated to Isaac and Jacob. But it is very important for us to remember, that at this point, the two sets of promises became separated.

It is also of vital importance to remember that the "birthright" promise was never given to a people we to-day call JEWS. In fact, there were no people so named, until at least 1200 years after this promise was first made to Abraham. They first appear in the King James Version of the Bible in 2 Kings 16:6, where we find the JEWS fighting against ISRAEL.

The "scepter" belonged to JUDAH. In Genesis 49:10 we read: "The scepter shall not depart from Judah . . ." Remember, that the kingly line of David was not a Jewish, but an Israelite line. There is a great deal of important difference.

However, the "birthright" belonged to Joseph, since it was given to him by his father Jacob. In 1 Chronicles 5:2 we read: "But the birthright was Joseph's."

Most Identity Christians believe that the true Germanic people are of the Royal House of Judah. Jesus Christ came from this "seed-line". He most certainly did not come from the people He personally condemned in John 8:44, when He stated: "Ye are of your father the devil . . ." or when He again stated in John 10:26 - "Ye believe not, because YE ARE NOT OF MY SHEEP . . ." This seems mighty plain to me.

When Jesus told the woman of Samaria that "Salvation is of the Jews," we know there must have been a terrible mistake made, or else it was deliberate, for we know from many other Scriptures that salvation did not come through "race", but through one man, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, of the royal line of David.

Hebrew translators will tell you that this verse should have read (John 4:22) "Salvation cometh out of Judea." This makes sense; the KJV rendition does not.

The same thing is true in Romans 1:16, where the KJV says: "The Gospel of Christ is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth: to the JEW first and also to the Greek." The word JEW should have been correctly translated as JUDEAN. The promise of "grace" was handed down through JUDAH, not through a Christ-hating race of mongrels called JEWS.

Few preachers understand that God made physical promises to Abraham, which have been completely overlooked by the church world. When they have been considered at all, they have been assigned to a "counterfeit" group we today call JEWS. The Lord spoke of these in Rev. 2:9, when He referred to: "Those which say they are JEWS, (JUDEANS) and are not; but are of the synagogue of Satan."

Knowledge concerning the "birthright" is the pivotal point on which Israel Identity truth hangs. It is the key to your understanding of prophecy.

The "birthright" includes only that which comes by "right of birth." No one can receive "eternal life," as a "right of birth." Unfortunately, there are some Identity preachers who preach this falsehood. If we could inherit "eternal life", it would not be of "grace." The Apostle Paul, in Ephesians 2:8, explains this clearly when he said: "For by grace are ye saved, through faith: and that not of yourselves: it is a gift of God." Salvation comes as a "gift." This is further explained in Romans 6:23, where we are told". . . but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord."

We can only receive material things from the "birthright" blessing. It does not bestow spiritual blessings. This promise has no qualifications attached to it. It comes to everyone who was "naturally" born into the Israel family.

But the "gift of eternal life," which comes through God's grace, has a qualifying condition. It does not come to you or me because we are Israelites; or because we have lived a righteous life. Think what would happen if this were true. If all Israelites automatically qualified as sons and daughters of God, with eternal life for all, we would see a rebellious, defiant, hostile, God-hating criminal who would shake his fist in God's face and scream: "I defy you! I refuse to obey you! I demand my right to eternal life! I'm going to use my power as a son of God to oppose you. I will cause friction, hostility, hatred, unhappiness among your children. But I demand eternal life, because it is my right!" You can see the problems this would cause.

There are many professing Christians who teach that there is no condition attached to this glorious "saving grace." They twist the truth around to say: "If there was a condition, that would mean that you earn your salvation. All one needs do is accept Christ as Savior and that is taken care of."

But the Bible clearly teaches that we are saved, only as we are first led to Christ through the Holy Spirit. No man or woman can come to Christ, without this happening. In Romans 8:14 we read: "For as many as are LED by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God." Verse 16 - "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." (See also Romans 9:11).

There must first be a "calling" before a person can be saved. Think where this type of teaching eventually leads. It causes professing Christians to rebel against God's law - to commit "sin," since sin is the transgression of the law, according to 1 John 3:4.

In Acts 5:32, we read where God gave His Holy Spirit to "them that obey Him."

God only pardons those who "repent." This is one of the conditions of salvation. To repent means to "turn around from rebellion, hostility and disobedience." It means obedience to God's Law. You can't be saved just by mumbling a little prayer that asks Jesus to come into your heart. You must have a genuine repentance for your sin.

If there were no conditions attached to eternal life, anyone could demand it and receive it as a "right." It is not a "right," but the "unmerited grace of God," when we meet the conditions.

The magnitude of material inheritance God passed on with the "birthright" is understood by very few. Paul said: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the mind of man," what God has for them that love and obey Him.

The "birthright" blessing includes all the first phase of God's promise to Abraham - multitudinous population, untold wealth, material resources, national greatness and world power.

God promised that from this one man Abraham, would come a world dominate nation and a "company of," or "Commonwealth of nations.

Not only were these people to be great in number. (The Jews have never numbered over 25-million people ~at any one time in their history and many of these were Jews by conversion, not by blood.) They were also to "possess the gates of their enemy," (Genesis 22:17). These "gateways" were the great natural sea lanes of the Suez Canal; the Panama Canal; the Straits of Gibraltar; the Cape of Good Hope in South Africa. Until this century, all of these sea lanes were under the control of the Israel nations.

Usually, the birthright fell to the eldest son, but on three specific occasions, God intervened, and for His own purposes chose another to possess both the "scepter," and the "birthright."

Abraham's eldest son was Ishamel, but God choose Isaac instead and in Genesis 25:5 we read that Abraham "gave all that he had to Isaac." Isaac was the "firstborn" lawful son of Abraham. Ishmael, was the son of Hagar, Sarah's Egyptian maid.

A prophecy was made concerning Ishmael in Genesis 16:12, which indicated that he would be a wild man who dwelt in tents, to the east of all his brethren. The children of Ishmael have become the Arab nations of the modern world.

Abraham was a human type of God the Father, while Isaac was representative of Jesus Christ, the Son. It is exciting and wonderful to realize, that if we belong to Christ "then are we Abraham's children," (Galatians 3:29) and Abraham is the "father of the faithful," (Gal. 3:7.)

Abraham was called to sacrifice his only legitimate son, Isaac, just as God gave His only begotten Son, Jesus the Christ, as a sacrifice for the sin of the world. Rebekah, Isaac's wife, was a type of the church and fell in love with him before she even saw him. Isaac was born miraculously, when his parents were far beyond normal child bearing age, even as Jesus was born through the miracle of the "virgin birth."

Before Rebekah's twin sons were born, God told her: "two manner of people shall be separated from your womb... and one people shall be the stronger: and the elder shall serve the younger," (Genesis 25:23).

The descendants of these two boys were to become two separate, distinct people.

Most of you will recall the story of Jacob's deception, when Esau sold his birthright for a bowl of red soup, (Genesis 25:27-34.) He lost the material promises when he did this. The writer of Hebrews explains this in 12:16, 17 - "Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. For we know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance though he sought it carefully with tears."

The promises Isaac made, through God, to his descendants, were material ones: "The fatness of the earth; prosperity; increase and possessions. Nations shall bow down to thee."

During the time of Jacob, who had twelve sons, we see the "branching out" of Israel and through them the future "commonwealth of nations."

The legal inheritor at this time was Reuben, Jacob's eldest son. But in 1 Chronicles 5:1, 2, we learn how this birthright was taken from him because of his sin and was given through God's command to Joseph's two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh.

It is at this point that the "birthright" promises were not made to "all Israel," and most certainly not to a bogus people called JEWS. Only a part of the Israel nation, the descendants of Joseph, were to become beneficiaries of these tremendous material blessings.

At the time of Jacob's death, the Israelite family was living in Egypt. It became time to pass on the birthright to another generation. So we see Joseph, as he brings his two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh to his terminally ill father to receive his blessing. (The mother of these boys was an Egyptian by the way, a white woman, an Aryan, whose father had been an Egyptian priest.)

It was at this point in time that Jacob adopted Joseph's two sons (see Genesis 48:5). This legally made them the "sons of Jacob."

Notice, however, that at the time of the blessing (verse 13), Jacob gave the "birthright" to the younger son Ephraim. Joseph protested, but his father indicated that once again the Almighty had changed the birthright possession. (see vs. 14-16).

Why is it that the eyes and minds of our church leaders and Bible scholars have been blinded to these plain facts of Scripture? Jacob conferred the blessing on both of them when he said (vs. 16) "Let my name be named on them." We know his name at this time had been changed by God to Israel. So the descendants of these two boys became known as ISRAELITES.

Since this is true, the racial inheritors of the Israel blessings today, are not the Jews, but the descendants of Ephraim and Manasseh. Few indeed, are the clergy today, or the Bible scholars, who accept this. Many know it to be true, but it would cause "ripples in the religious pond," and this they are unwilling to do.

In this portion of Scriptures we learn that while Manasseh, the elder, would become a great nation, his younger brother, Ephraim, would become a "multitude of nations". This has happened only in the British Commonwealth. It has never even come close to happening with the people we know as Jews.

So if we honestly look for the Israel people in the present age, we must remember that one was to become a great nation and the other a multitude of nations. These promises were never fulfilled in Bible times, so we must look for their fulfillment towards the close of the present world era.

The descendants of Joseph were to spread abroad, colonizing as they went. These promises, as I said, have never been fulfilled by the Jews and certainly not by the church. Only in the modern nations of Christendom, the white Christian nations of the world, do we find their fulfillment.

About 975 B.C. due to the increasing wickedness of King Solomon, as he was led astray by his lust for his heathen wives (1 Kings 11:1 - The English word "strange" in Hebrew is "nokriy", meaning:

"alien; foreign.") God took the ten northern tribes away from him and gave them to Jereboam. (1 Kings 11:26-40.)

However, Jereboam's lack of faith in YAHWEH God, soon led to heathen practices among the Northern tribes which brought God's wrath upon them and they were taken captive into Assyria. 2 Kings 17:1-6 documents this captivity relative to the royal family, while 2 Kings 18:9-12 dates it in connection with the reign of King Hezekiah in Jerusalem.

While all the major cities of Judah and Israel were overrun and conquered, Jerusalem withstood the siege and did not fall. So we see that most of Israel and Judah went into Assyrian captivity between 740-710 B.C.

The descendants of these people never returned to Palestine and were never part of the bastardized Jewish nation.

In the North, the Assyrians replaced the captured Israelites with men and women from other nations (see 2 Kings 17:24). These mixed with the few Israelites which remained, to form the Samaritan people of Jesus' time.

Another fact, often overlooked, I suspect deliberately, by many Bible scholars, was that the Assyrian captivity and later the Babylonian captivity, were not connected in any way.

Bible commentators often carelessly refer to the scattering of the Jews in 70 A.D., when Jerusalem was destroyed by the Romans, as the "dispersion of Israel." Not so! This dispersion took place more than 700 years earlier.

One thing most pastors and Bible scholars seem to forget, is that Judah comprised only a very tiny minority of the "seed of Abraham" at the time of these captivities and that the people we now know as JEWS, comprised an even tinier portion of Abraham's seed. Since that time, it has grown even smaller, since the vast majority of the Jewish people, according to their own records, are of Turco-Mongolian (Ashkenazi) blood, whose ancestors never set foot in Palestine. These comprise the majority of the Israeli leaders at the present time. This plus the fact that millions of Jews are proselytes, such as Sammy Davis, Jr., and Elizabeth Taylor, and you get the idea that there are very few Jews in the world who can trace their blood lines back to Abraham.

A careful study of John chapter 8, will indicate that most of the Jewish leaders of that time were not of Israel blood, for when Jesus told them in John 8:32 - "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free," they boastingly said: ". . . We be Abraham's seed and were never in bondage to any man." This would indicate that they were Edomites; seed of Ishmael, for every Sunday School child knows that true Israel was in bondage in Egypt.

From the time when Israel went into captivity as punishment, the Bible tells us nothing concerning these Israelites, as they made their trek to the north and west, moving to the land which God had promised King David in 2 Samuel 7:10.

While nothing can be found concerning the fate of the children of Ephraim and Manasseh in the Bible, or the fate of the "throne of David," the answers must come from Moses and the prophets with a few glimpses of truth in the New Testament and secular history.

It would take a complete article to even scratch the surface and explain how the "throne of David", which apparently vanished from the archives of history after the Assyrian captivity, can be traced to modern day England.

We do however, have this assurance, given by Almighty God YAHWEH to King David in 2 Samuel 7:12-16 - "Thine house and thy kingdom, and thy THRONE, shall be established forever." There were no conditions given here; this is an unconditional promise.

One of the penalties for the Israelite's transgression of the Mosaic Covenant was their removal from Palestine for 2520 years. Both kingdoms began to serve this sentence when they went into captivity.

When Dr. Moffat wrote his translation of the Bible, he was approached by wealthy and powerful Jewish leaders who offered him a large sum of money if he would eliminate the words "I will ordain, or appoint a place," and change it to read: "I have ordained a place." Great man that he was, Dr. Moffatt refused, because he knew that Israel was to go to a new place, other than Palestine, in a time future to David. Most preachers and Bible scholars refuse to accept the true wording of this Scripture and insist that it was speaking about David's time and Palestine.

It is also interesting to note how Bible scholars who are willing to accept historical records from Assyria, Babylonia and Egypt, which are over 4,000 years old, refuse to accept historical records from Ireland and Britain, which are most often less than 2500 years old. These British and Irish records prove that Israelites settled in the British Isles at least 1500 years B.C. (Read ONE MAN'S DESTINY, by C. R. Dickey, available from Destiny publishers, P.O. Box 177, Merrimac, MA 01860.)

The Israelite tribe of Dan, which was a seafaring people, can be more easily traced than any other, since they had the custom of attaching their name to places and rivers along their route of march. This movement was prophesied by Jacob in Genesis 49:17, when he said of his son Dan: "Dan shall be a serpent by the way." Some translators have put it thus: "Dan's shall be a serpent's trail."

Ptolemy (a Greek geographer, 127-151 A.D.) made a map of Ireland which shows the name of DAN-SOWAR and DAN-SOB AIRSE on the Northeast coast, where the colonies of the Dannites settled.

They had come from Greece and trekked north and west, leaving behind a trail of such names as the river DANUBE; a country called DANMARK; and many, many others.

There are some historical hints that the tribe of Simeon formed the Celt-Iberian immigration, which moved north and west from the Levant (lands bordering the eastern Mediterranean), about 1500 B.C. and settled in Brittany, Belgium, Wales, Devonshire, parts of Cumberland and parts of Cornwall.

These people were called "Simonii" in classical atlases. Irish history indicates that the Prophet Jeremiah along with his scribe Baruch and King Zedekiah's daughters, escaped from Egypt and ultimately landed in Ireland, where the eldest daughter married an Irish king.

Some scholars say that Israel ended under the Assyrian captivity and that today the "Jews are all of Israel." they do not realize, or refuse to realize, that the Jews of today are those referred today by our Lord in Revelation 2:9; 3:9, when He spoke of those "who say they are JEWS (Judeans) and are not, but are of the synagogue of Satan."

The power of the world Jewry has grown to the place where most pastors are afraid to buck it, even though they know the Jews are the enemies of Jesus Christ, and thusly of God Himself. (See 1 John 2:22, 23.)

The faith of Identity Christians should be tremendously increased when they realize that the written history and folklore of the white nations of Christendom, agrees with the solemn proclamations of Bible prophecy. This same criteria needs to be followed when we look at the anti-Christ Jews and realize that they do not fulfill any of the Bible prophesies. Not one!

Israel migrated north through a pass in the Caucas Mountains, which is today called the "Pass of Israel." This is why our people are called "Caucasian," and why you put this designation on any form where the designation of race is required.

Herodotus, a Greek historian of about 484-425 B.C. wrote in his history concerning this migration. He tells how the Israelites traveled in covered wagons, much as the early American pioneers who crossed the Great Plains. In HERODOTUS, BOOK 4, he says: "If Asoreth can be identified as in the region of the River Sereth, then Israel had made its way to the west side of the Black Sea."

For about the next thousand years, Greek and Roman historians record the movement of a

"mysterious people," whose origin no one knew, as they moved slowly across Europe, settling at various times in the British Isles.

It is also interesting to note that the great Jewish historian, Josephus, in Book II, v.2, writing about 70 A.D. said: ". . . there are but Two Tribes in Asia and Europe, subject to the Romans, while the Ten tribes are now beyond the Euphrates River and are, an immense multitude, and not to be numbered, or estimated by number."

This takes on added significance when we realize God said Israel would never cease to be a nation as long as the sun and moon, day and night remain and that furthermore, Israel would be numerically "as the sand of the sea which cannot be numbered," (Hosea 1:10.) The Jews have never come close to this criteria.

The name ISRAEL, which means "union with YAHWEH," or "Prince with God," was withdrawn from common use when Israel went into captivity for their sins. It would not be used again until Israel was settled in her new land (2 Samuel 7:10.) The name ISRAEL was used by Jesus and the apostles, in relation to the spiritual welfare of these wandering people and several clues can be found in the New Testament as to their location.

First, when Paul and Barnabas tried to go into Asia to preach the Gospel, they were restrained by the Holy Spirit, who compelled them to go into Asia Minor, where a large body of Israelites resided, (see Acts 16:7-10.)

Then in the opening words of 1 and 2 Corinthians, we see that Paul is speaking to people in Asia Minor; again in Galatians; Ephesians; Philippians and Thessalonians. The Epistle of James is specifically addressed "to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad," while 1 Peter is addressed to "the strangers scattered through-out" Asia Minor. (The Greek word for "strangers" is "parepidemos", which means: "a resident foreigner; pilgrim.")

In Genesis 21:12, God told Abraham that in "Isaac shall thy seed be called." So is it strange to find "true Israel" called "Isaac's Sons," or "Sacs-Sons," or "Saxons?" Israel is still the family name for the descendants of Jacob-Israel.

We could spend many, many pages discussing the fascinating changes in names which have come to the Israel people; all of them clearly delineating that they are Israelites.

In all the historic movements of these "white" people, we can see the sons of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, as they are gathered together in the British Isles, before launching out on the voyages to North America, South Africa and Australia.

Most of our historians have given us a false view of our ancestors from the British Isles, portraying them as ignorant savages. But in his EARLY ENGLISH HISTORY, eminent English historian Yeatman wrote: "Centuries before the Romans gained footing in this country, the inhabitants were a polished and intellectual people, with a system of jurisprudence of their own design, superior to the laws of Rome and the Romans acknowledged this."

The Romans also admired the skill of these people in agriculture and the working of tin and precious metals.

We must be careful not to infer that all of Israel gathered in the British Isles, since this is obviously not true. It is very doubtful if all the members of Jacob's family have ever gathered together in one place, since that day when they got angry at their younger brother Joseph and decided to do away with him, (see Genesis 37:3-11.)

Even as Israel gathered in the Isles, they began to spread abroad, as the land became too crowded. This was according to the prophesy of Isaiah 49:20, which I believe refers to the United States splitting off from Britain: "The children which thou shalt have, after THOU HAST LOST THE OTHERS, shall say again in thine ears, the place is too strait (small) for me: give me a place where I may dwell." So millions of them migrated to Canada, South Africa and Australia.

When our Founding Fathers landed on the shores of America, they laid their plans on the pattern of Israel. We know from their writings that they were Christians, who came to the New World because they were Christians and for the specific purpose of founding a Christian, not a "pluralistic" nation.

When the Mayflower dropped anchor in the waters of Cape Cod Bay, Massachusetts, on November 11, 1620, before they set foot on American soil, they formed a document called the Mayflower Compact which read: "In the name of God. Amen! We whose names are underwritten, having undertaken for the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith, a voyage to plant the first colony . . . do by these Presents, solemnly and mutually in the presence of God combine ourselves into a civic body politic." This was the beginning of a Christian government in the New World.

During the next century and a half, while thousands of immigrants, mostly white, came from Europe, they saw the need of a Federation and the Articles of Confederation were drawn up, stating: "Whereas, we all came in to these parts of America with one and the same end, namely, to advance the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ and to enjoy the liberties of the Gospel in purity, we therefore conceive it our bounden duty... that as in nation and religion, so in other respects, we be and continue as one."

Finally, on July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence made us "one nation under God." George Washington called us "the second land of promise," and a Christian song writer wrote the stirring words of ALL HAIL THE POWER OF JESUS NAME, one verse read:

"Ye chosen seed of Israel's race,

Ye ransomed from the fall.

Hail Him who saves you by His grace,

AND CROWN Him, Lord of All!"

Yes, these men and women knew we were Israel!

Yet today, it is most incredible to find that many Christians who accept what the Bible says about God and Jesus Christ, refuse to accept what it says about "true Israel" and the "pseudo-Jews."

Evil is always more effective when it is in disguise. Not many people would be fooled by Satan if he appeared as a monster with cloven hoofs, horns and a spiked tail; but when he comes as an "angel of light," even professing Christians are taken in. So Satan's children (see John 8:44) try and fool Christians, as they attempt to palm themselves off as the Chosen Race and usurp the birthright from true Israelites.

The New Testament evangelists and apostles were constantly warning Christians about the Judaizers who joined every Christian group, causing strife, confusion and division. Subversive Alexanderian Jews joined the early Christian church and corrupted many of its early doctrines.

When the Protestant Reformation took place centuries later under Martin Luther and others, theologians once again lost their way under the poisonous influence of Jewish philosophers like Spinoza and Kant, and German Jewish teachers such as Wellhausen, Strauss, Ewald, Kuene and Hitzig. These launched a vicious attack against the Bible under the misleading term of GERMAN HIGHER CRITICISM!

This all brings to mind the warning given by the Apostle Paul in Titus 1:10, where he says: "many unruly and vain talkers, and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision (Jews), whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre (moneys) sake." Then in verse 14 - he warns us 'Not to give heed to Jewish fables . . . that turn from the truth."

There is no sphere of human activity where these anti-Christ's have not done Satan's propaganda work. They clamor for "freedom in a democracy," so they can tear down the Republic. They desire freedom only for themselves so they can destroy every vestige of our White Christian Civilization.

They advocate peace for others, while they practice war against their neighbors. Note how all military activity on the part of the Israeli's towards the Arabs, is "legal retaliation," while in every case, Arab counteraction is termed as "terrorism."

Most of the Jews living in the United States are foreigners, who have been given freedom to live here in peace. They MUST not be allowed to undermine our Government, nor control our institutions.

While the Jewish majority constantly cry "persecution," and bid for Christian sympathy, they are the greatest persecutors in the annals of history. They ride to power on their control of money and the press, while the stupid sheeple of Christianity, elevate their worst enemies to positions of prominence and call them the "apple of God's eye." Truly the prophecy of Hosea 7:8 has come to pass: "Israel is swallowed up. . ." and we know it not!

It is not enough to call Jesus "Lord!" We must also obey His laws as well, for "sin is the transgression of the law," (1 John 3:4.) We have missed the mark in America, as we have confined YAHWEH God, and His Son, Jesus our Lord, to the confines of the church. No wonder we muddle along in a constantly worsening condition.

Whether we want to admit it or not, Jesus Christ is much more than a personal question - He must once and for all become a national question! Once more, we must truly echo the cry of the early colonists, as they shouted: "We have no king but Jesus!"

I believe the time has come for an awakening in modern Israel. An awakening that will bring Israelite men and women to a realization of who they are and what their responsibilities are before Almighty God, their Father.

Then with this awakening, must and will come a cleansing of this land. A cleansing which MUST begin in the church. We must get the Judaizers out of the National Temple; we MUST restore Jesus Christ to His rightful place in the hearts of individuals and in the nation.

The Gospel of Salvation is for the individual and comes through the "grace of God." National salvation is the message of the Kingdom, as men and women obey God and do things His way, in the administration of national affairs.

The hunger of men's and women's hearts for decent government will be satisfied, not only in Israel, but throughout the world, when the Israel people seek the face of their God in repentance (2 Chronicles 7:14). Then will come to pass the saying of Isaiah 32:17, 19.) "The work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness, quietness and assurance for ever. And my people shall dwell in a peaceful habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places."

When we are willing to let YAHWEH God control things, then the prophecy of Isaiah 54:17 will take effect: "No weapons that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is of me, saith the Lord."

MARANATHA!
